

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

During FY 2021, listed companies annual results were relatively expected by investors, after a less favorable year 2020 marked by the negative repercussions of the health crisis.

In a context of economic recovery, through a rebound of +7.3% in GDP in 2021, listed companies return to their pre-health crisis normative profit levels. Alongside our analysis of the annual achievements of listed companies, we come out with 4 key messages:

- The reported earning growth of the Equity market settled at +65.1% in 2021 after a decline of -34.4% a year earlier. This corresponds to aggregate profits of MAD 28.9 Bn. Restated from donations to the Covid-19 fund, the recurring earning power rose by +36.0% during the same period;
- The Banking sector is the main contributor to the recovery of the market's earning power through an increase in its aggregate net income of MAD +4.9 Bn. It should be noted that the contribution of the Real Estate sector is reflected in a return to equilibrium, after a significant loss of MAD -1.3 Bn in 2020;
- Listed companies are maintaining their effort to remunerate Shareholders through an increase in the aggregate amount of the dividend by nearly 20% during 2021. For the first time since 2019, the market is back with a level of dividend above MAD 20 Bn. In more detail, 29 listed companies representing 69% of market capitalization have announced a significant increase in their 2021 DPS;
- The Equity market's dividend yield stands at 3.2% for 2021 against 2.1% for the TB-5 year benchmark rate, i.e. a spread of 110 BPS. The NIT, Financing and Cement sectors stand out through respective D/Y of 5.6%, 5.0% and 4.1%.

LISTED COMPANIES RETURN TO THEIR PRE-COVID EARNING POWER

At the end of the FY 2021 marked by the visible recovery of economic activity, the achievements of the 72 listed companies having published their annual results are as follows:

- Aggregate revenue rose by +9.9% to MAD 262.3 Bn, taking advantage from the recovery in Demand and a positive price effect;
- After recording an increase of +115.5% in H1-21, the earnings' growth decelerated in the second half to +32.5%. Initially, we notice an unfavorable base effect insofar as 90% of donations to the Covid-19 fund were accounted during H1-20. According to our calculations, this amounted to MAD 6.0 Bn;
- The reported earning power exceeds the pre-Covid levels of 2019 to stand at MAD 28.9 Bn, i.e. an increase of +65.1% compared to 2020. Excluding contributions to the Covid-19 fund, the market's recurring profit growth settles at

THE BANKING SECTOR, THE MAIN CONTRIBUTOR TO THE RECOVERY IN PROFITS

We note that all listed sectors contributed positively to the improvement in the market's earnings. In more detail, we come out with the following findings:

- The Banking sector is the main contributor with a recovery in its profits of MAD +4,931 Mn thus justifying 43% of the market's overall variation;
- The Real Estate sector is the second contributor due to its return to equilibrium, after a record loss of MAD -1,277 Mn in 2020:
- The Cement sector recorded an increase in profits of MAD +1,018 Mn, justifying 9% of the overall market variation.

EQUITY MARKET: CONTRIBUTION TO REPORTED PROFITS (IN MAD MN)

Taking into account the capitalistic weight of the listed sectors, we notice two major observations:

- 13 listed sectors, representing 95% of market capitalization, show a recovery in their profits during 2021. These are: Financing Companies (+202%), Building Materials (+176%), Mining (+158%), Ports (+128%), Banking (+91%), Automotive (+66%), Cement (+46%), Energy (+44%), Insurance (+28%), Retail (+23%), NIT (+17%), Telecoms (+11%) and Agri-Business (+7%);
- The Real Estate sector, which weighs less than 1% in market capitalization, is returning to profit from a cumulative loss of MAD -1,277 Mn in 2020 to an aggregate net income of MAD +14 Mn in 2021.

DIVIDENDS CROSSED MAD 20 BN, HIGHEST SINCE 2019

Among the 72 listed companies having published their 2021 annual results, 64 issuers have announced the amount of the dividend for the same FY. This is an aggregate amount of dividends of MAD 20.1 Bn including MAD 0.4 Bn to be distributed as an extraordinary dividend.

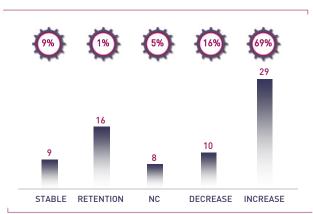

At a constant scope, the dividend amount for the FY 2021 is up +19.7% compared to 2020. To this end, the market's payout stands at 73% in 2021, in line with the average observed over the period 2017-2018.

Our reading of listed companies' communication on their 2021 dividend shows that 29 issuers raised their DPS compared to the previous year, 10 listed companies announced lower dividends, 9 issuers maintained their DPS at a level similar to that of 2020, 16 listed companies did not distribute dividends, and finally 8 issuers did not announce their DPS 2021.

DPS COMMUNICATION: NUMBER VS. CAPI WEIGHT

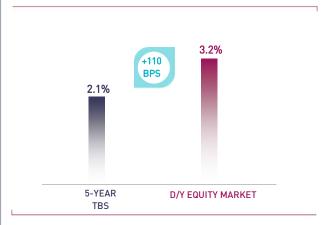

Taking into account the amount of dividends announced at the end of March 2022 and on the basis of a constant scope, the Equity market D/Y comes out at 3.2%. This remains higher than the 5-year TB, which stands at 2.1%. This is a spread of 110 BPS in favor of the stock market.

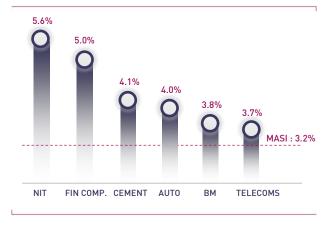

The listed sectors offering the best D/Y are as follows:

- NIT: a D/Y of 5.6% driven by Disway which doubled its DPS from MAD 35 in 2020 to MAD 70 in 2021;
- Financing companies: a D/Y of 5.0% supported by the increase in the dividends of Maghrebail and Maroc Leasing. Moreover, Salafin kept its DPS unchanged at MAD 52;
- Cement: a D/Y of 4.1% due to the sustainability of the distribution efforts of the two listed cement manufacturers;
- Automotive: a D/Y of 4.0% following the increase in the DPS of Auto Nejma and the maintaining of Auto Hall's DPS at the same level as the previous year.
